Equal Employment Opportunity

AccuKare, Inc. will comply with all applicable laws governing equal employment opportunity. This policy extends to all applicants and employees and to all aspects of the employment relationship including, but not limited to recruiting, hiring, promotion, transfer, and compensation.

Specifically, the company will provide equal employment and advancement opportunity on the basis of merit within the context of its unique business environment, and without regard to race, color, gender identity or expression, sexual orientation, assistance, religion, pregnancy, veteran status, membership or activity in a local commission, disability, age or any other status prohibited by protected law.

PHR-22 Policy Date: 06-10-2002

Revised Date: 10-08-2012

Offensive Behavior/Employee Grievance

Any employee who engages in harassment on the basis of race, color, creed, religion, national origin, gender identity or expression, sexual orientation, marital status, status with regard to public assistance, membership or activity in a local commission, pregnancy, national origin, veteran status, disability or age, who permits employees under his/her supervision to engage in such harassment or who retaliates or permits retaliation against an employee who reports such harassment is guilty of misconduct and shall be subject to remedial action which may include the imposition of discipline or termination of employment.

Sexual harassment is prohibited and includes any unwelcome sexual advance, request for sexual favor, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature when:

- Submission to such conduct is made, either explicitly or implicitly, as a term or condition of employment.
- Submission to or rejection of such conduct is used as a factor in any employment decision affecting any individual.
- Such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with any employee's work performance or creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive working environment.

Although the intent of the person engaging in the conduct may be harmless or even friendly, it is the perception of the conduct by the recipient that is relevant to whether the conduct is harassment. Given the difficulty of judging whether the conduct is welcome or unwelcome in particular situations the company prohibits all employees from engaging in any conduct of a sexual nature or amounting to harassment based on any protected category in the work setting.

This policy applies to everyone, including managers. No retaliation or intimidation directed towards anyone who makes the complaint will be tolerated.

If you believe you have been a victim of harassment or have any grievance, take the following steps.

- 1. Discuss the matter with your supervisor or manager.
- 2. If you believe your supervisor to be the source of, or a party to sexual harassment, talk to any other member of management or the office or site manager.

The company will investigate and attempt to resolve your complaint promptly. If, for any reason, you believe this has not occurred within a reasonable period of time refer the problem to any other manager in the company, up to and including the President of AccuKare, Inc.

Boundaries Policy

Professional boundaries are important and this policy is for your safety as well as the safety of your client.

You may not:

- Accept gifts or money from the person receiving services or from family members
- Borrow money, cars, equipment or anything else from the person receiving services or from family members
- Buy any possessions from the person receiving services or from their family members
- Have a romantic or sexual relationship with the person receiving services or with immediate family members
- Loan money to the person receiving services or their family members
- Sell items of any kind to the person receiving services or to family members
- Sexually harass the person receiving services or family members
- Verbally, physically, financially or sexually abuse the person receiving services or their family members
- Contact a previous client, client family member or client representative once you are no longer employed as a staff for that client. Any attempt to do so could be viewed as harassment by the individual and handled accordingly.

Signs of boundary issues in the working relationship include:

- Offers of gifts
- Person receiving services makes unreasonable requests and/or requests tasks not in the care plan
- Speaking negatively about other workers with client or fellow workers
- When an employee that is not a family member functions in the role of an informal family member/friend
- Communications with client/responsible party outside of scheduled shift

Boundaries for family members and friends:

You must be careful to guard the client's privacy. You must have a professional manner while carrying out PCA/Homemaker/Respite services.

The tasks you do for a person as a PCA/Homemaker/Respite must remain between you, your agency and the client. Be cautious when talking about anyone else who provides PCA/Homemaker/Respite services.

Friends and family often do many small tasks for each other on a daily basis. You may count time only for activities that are in the care plan during scheduled work time.

Employee Grievances

In any organization, dissatisfaction may arise because an employee does not know, understand, or agree with certain policy interpretations. Such dissatisfactions are commonly referred to as grievances. At AccuKare, Inc., we believe that if an employee has a grievance concerning his/her wages, hours of work, or other terms or conditions of employment, the matter should receive consideration of all concerned.

An employee who feels aggrieved is urged to take the matter up immediately with his/her supervisor. Your supervisor is required to investigate your grievance and provide you with a response or decision within a reasonable period of time. This investigation may consist of, but is not limited to, gathering information from other employees involved, reviewing company policy, and any other action necessary to become familiar with the situation.

If you are not satisfied with the response/decision from your immediate supervisor, you are encouraged to go to the next level of supervision both orally and in writing. This next level of supervision will also have a reasonable period of time in which to investigate the issue and respond to you in writing.

If after these steps are taken, you believe inadequate action has been taken to resolve your complaint, contact the Office Manager or your QP and complete an Employee Complaint Form. It is the policy of this organization to respond to any reasonable complaint and take the necessary actions to settle the issue.

There will be no retaliation taken against a complaining employee as a result of making the complaint regardless of the outcome of the investigation.

If you have a problem that is more specifically addressed by the offensive behavior policy on the preceding pages of this handbook, please follow the procedure described there.

Employees are encouraged to vote and will be permitted the necessary time off unpaid. You will be allowed a reasonable period of time to vote in the morning in case you aren't able to vote before or after working hours. This must be arranged in advance with the staffing department in order to ensure that the client's needs are met.

Time off for School Conferences and Activities

In accordance with Minnesota law, unpaid time off, up to a maximum of 16 hours annually, is available to all employees who have worked at least half time for the previous 12 months, for attendance at school conferences, classroom activities, and preschool activities which cannot be scheduled during non-working hours.

Jury Duty

AccuKare, Inc. will provide time off without pay for any employee assigned to jury duty upon presentation of the appropriate notice. Please give us as much advance notice as possible.

On Call Employee

An on-call employee is defined as someone who has wished not to maintain a regular schedule but would like to fill in with a specific/or multiple clients.

We have many employees who wish to stay on as an on-call employee. However, if an employee goes longer than 4 months without working a shift this employee may be voluntary terminated and unlinked with AccuKare on the DHS data base. If at any time the employee wishes to become reactivated, they must go through the new hire process and background study. Exceptions can be made if they are made prior to going into the on-call status.

Military Leave

AccuKare will comply with all USERRA requirements listed below (posting is listed in this hand book and posted in our office):

USERRA prohibits employment discrimination against a person on the basis of past military service, current military obligations, or intent to serve. An employer must not deny initial employment, reemployment, retention in employment, promotion, or any benefit of employment to a person on the basis of a past, present, or future service obligation. In addition, an employer must not retaliate against a person because of an action taken to enforce or exercise any USERRA right or for assisting in an USERRA investigation.

The pre-service employer must reemploy service members returning from a period of service in the uniformed services if those service members meet five criteria:

- The person must have been absent from a civilian job on account of service in the uniformed services;
- The person must have given advance notice to the employer that he or she was leaving the job for service in the uniformed services, unless such notice was precluded by military necessity or otherwise impossible or unreasonable;
- The cumulative period of military service with that employer must not have exceeded five years;
- The person must not have been released from service under dishonorable or other punitive conditions; and
- The person must have reported back to the civilian job in a timely manner or have submitted a timely application for reemployment, unless timely reporting back or application was impossible or unreasonable.

USERRA establishes a five-year cumulative total of military service with a single employer, with certain exceptions allowed for situations such as call-ups during emergencies, reserve drills, and annually scheduled active duty for training. USERRA also allows an employee to complete an initial period of active duty that exceeds five years.

Employers are required to provide to persons entitled to the rights and benefits under USERRA a notice of the rights, benefits, and obligations of such persons and such employers under USERRA.

USERRA provides that returning service members are to be reemployed in the job that they would have attained had they not been absent for military service, (the "escalator" principle), with the same seniority, status and pay, as well as other rights and benefits determined by seniority. USERRA also requires that reasonable efforts (such as training or retraining) be made to enable returning service members to qualify for reemployment. If the service member cannot qualify for the "escalator" position, he or she must be reemployed, if qualified, in any other position that is the nearest approximation to the escalator position and then to the pre-service position. USERRA also provides that while an individual is performing military service, he or she is deemed to be on a furlough or leave of absence and is entitled to the non-seniority rights accorded other similarly-situated individuals on non-military leaves of absence. The time limits for returning to work are as follows:

- Less than 31 days service: By the beginning of the first regularly scheduled work period after the end of the calendar day of duty, plus time required to return home safely and an eight hour rest period. If this is impossible or unreasonable, then as soon as possible.
- 31 to 180 days: The employee must apply for reemployment no later than 14 days after completion of military service. If this is impossible or unreasonable through no fault of the employee, then as soon as possible.
- 181 days or more: The employee must apply for reemployment no later than 90 days after completion of military service.
- Service-connected injury or illness: Reporting or application deadlines are extended for up to two years for persons who are hospitalized or convalescing.

Fraud Policy

An employee of AccuKare is only able to claim hours that they have worked that directly correlate to their job description. No time may be claimed for care duties that were not performed as directed by the Care Plan. Any attempt to claim time for duties that were not performed as directed by the job description and the Care Plan will be considered attempts towards fraud and will be reported to the Fraud Investigation Department of the Department of Human Services. The employee may be terminated for such attempts.

- The employee must be physically with the client for all of the time claimed in order to claim the time unless otherwise directed by the Care Plan.
- The employee may only claim time when the only person they are responsible for is the client.
- An employee must be actually performing the claimed duties in order to claim the time.
- The employee may not claim the scheduled 'start' and 'end' time of their assignment unless they are actually with the client or doing the Care Plan directed duties at those claimed times.
- The employee may not claim time for the entire scheduled time even if the client or Responsible Party sends them home early. If this (being sent home early) is consistently happening, AccuKare, Inc. needs to be notified.
- The employee may not claim time for 'running errands' for the client unless it specifically is stated in the Care Plan in place within the agency.
- The employee may not claim time for providing services in their (the employee's) home unless they live with the client.
- The employee may not claim time for things that are not in the Care Plan even if the client or responsible party 'tells them to do it.'

The above list is a compiling of examples, but is not all-inclusive. The best methods to use to avoid fraudulent timecard usage are:

- 1. Care staff may only claim time when physically with the client, performing the duties on the Care Plan unless otherwise directed by the Care Plan.
- 2. As a Qualified Professional, performing the duties listed in DHS guidelines (refer to Steps for Success training and Job Description-JD-03

Emergency Use of Manual Restraints Policy

Program Name: AccuKare, Inc

I. Policy

It is the policy of this DHS licensed provider, AccuKare (program), to promote the rights of persons served by this program and to protect their health and safety during the emergency use of manual restraints.

"Emergency use of manual restraint" means using a manual restraint when a person poses an imminent risk of physical harm to self or others and it is the least restrictive intervention that would achieve safety. Property damage, verbal aggression, or a person's refusal to receive or participate in treatment or programming on their own, do not constitute an emergency.

AccuKare DOES NOT use Manual restraints; however, if an emergency occurs, please follow this criteria. If your client is escalating in behavior, attempt the following to redirect the behavior.

II. Positive support strategies and techniques required

- A. The following positive support strategies and techniques must be used to attempt to de-escalate a person's behavior before it poses an imminent risk of physical harm to self or others:
 - Follow individualized strategies in a person's coordinated service and support plan and coordinated service and support plan addendum;
 - Shift the focus by verbally redirect the person to a desired alternative activity;
 - Model desired behavior;
 - Reinforce appropriate behavior
 - Offer choices, including activities that are relaxing and enjoyable to the person;
 - Use positive verbal guidance and feedback;
 - Actively listen to a person and validate their feelings;
 - Create a calm environment by reducing sound, lights, and other factors that may agitate a person;
 - Speak calmly with reassuring words, consider volume, tone, and non-verbal communication:
 - Simplify a task or routine or discontinue until the person is calm and agrees to participate; or
 - Respect the person's need for physical space and/or privacy.
- B. The program will develop a positive support transition plan on the forms and in manner prescribed by the Commissioner and within the required timelines for each person served when required in order to:

- 1. eliminate the use of prohibited procedures as identified in section III of this policy;
- 2. avoid the emergency use of manual restraint as identified in section I of this policy;
- 3. prevent the person from physically harming self or others; or
- 4. phase out any existing plans for the emergency or programmatic use of restrictive interventions prohibited.

III. Permitted actions and procedures

Use of the following instructional techniques and intervention procedures used on an intermittent or continuous basis are permitted by this program. When used on a continuous basis, it must be addressed in a person's coordinated service and support plan addendum.

- A. Physical contact or instructional techniques must be use the least restrictive alternative possible to meet the needs of the person and may be used to:
 - 1. calm or comfort a person by holding that persons with no resistance from that person;
 - 2. protect a person known to be at risk of injury due to frequent falls as a result of a medical condition:
 - 3. facilitate the person's completion of a task or response when the person does not resist or the person's resistance is minimal in intensity and duration; or
 - 4. block or redirect a person's limbs or body without holding the person or limiting the person's movement to interrupt the person's behavior that may result in injury to self or others, with less than 60 seconds of physical contact by staff; or
 - 5. to redirect a person's behavior when the behavior does not pose a serious threat to the person or others and the behavior is effectively redirected with less than 60 seconds of physical contact by staff.
- B. Restraint may be used as an intervention procedure to:
 - 1. allow a licensed health care professional to safely conduct a medical examination or to provide medical treatment ordered by a licensed health care professional to a person necessary to promote healing or recovery from an acute, meaning short-term, medical condition; or
 - 2. assist in the safe evacuation or redirection of a person in the event of an emergency and the person is at imminent risk of harm; or
 - 3. position a person with physical disabilities in a manner specified in the person's coordinated service and support plan addendum.

 Any use of manual restraint as allowed in this paragraph [Section B] must comply with the restrictions identified in [Section A].
 - C. Use of adaptive aids or equipment, orthotic devices, or other medical equipment ordered by a licensed health professional to treat a diagnosed medical condition do not in and of themselves constitute the use of mechanical restraint.

IV. Prohibited Procedures

Use of the following procedures as a substitute for adequate staffing, for a behavioral or therapeutic program to reduce or eliminate behavior, as punishment, or for staff convenience, is prohibited by this program:

- 1. chemical restraint;
- 2. mechanical restraint;
- 3. manual restraint;
- 4. time out;
- 5. seclusion; or
- 6. any aversive or deprivation procedure.

V. Manual Restraints Not Allowed in Emergencies

- A. This program does not allow the emergency use of manual restraint. The following alternative measures must be used by staff to achieve safety when a person's conduct poses an imminent risk of physical harm to self or others and less restrictive strategies have not achieved safety:
 - Continue to utilize the positive support strategies;
 - Continue to follow individualized strategies in a person's coordinated service and support plan and coordinated service and support plan addendum;
 - Ask the person and/or others if they would like to move to another area where they may feel safer or calmer;
 - Remove objects from the person's immediate environment that they may use to harm self or others
 - Call 911 for law enforcement assistance if the alternative measures listed above are ineffective in order to achieve safety for the person and/or others. While waiting for law enforcement to arrive staff will continue to offer the alternative measures listed above if doing so does not pose a risk of harm to the person and/or others.
 - Refer to the attached list of alternative measures that includes a description of each of the alternative measures trained staff are allowed to use and instructions for the safe and correct implementation of those alternative measures.
 - B. The program will not allow the use of an alternative safety procedure with a person when it has been determined by the person's physician or mental health provider to be medically or psychologically contraindicated for a person. This program will complete an assessment of whether the allowed procedures are contraindicated for each person receiving services as part of the required service planning required under the 245D Home and Community-based Services (HCBS) Standards (section 245D.07, subdivision 2, for recipients of basic support services; or section 245D.071, subdivision 3, for recipients of intensive support services).

VI. Conditions for Emergency Use of Manual Restraint

- A. Emergency use of manual restraint must meet the following conditions:
 - 1. immediate intervention must be needed to protect the person or others from imminent risk of physical harm;
 - 2. the type of manual restraint used must be the least restrictive intervention to eliminate the immediate risk of harm and effectively achieve safety; and
 - 3. the manual restraint must end when the threat of harm ends.

- B. The following conditions, on their own, are not conditions for emergency use of manual restraint:
 - 1. the person is engaging in property destruction that does not cause imminent risk of physical harm:
 - 2. the person is engaging in verbal aggression with staff or others; or
 - 3. a person's refusal to receive or participate in treatment or programming.

VII. Restrictions When Implementing Emergency Use of Manual Restraint

Emergency use of manual restraint must not:

- 1. be implemented with a child in a manner that constitutes sexual abuse, neglect, physical abuse, or mental injury;
- 2. be implemented with an adult in a manner that constitutes abuse or neglect;
- 3. be implemented in a manner that violates a person's rights and protection;
- 4. be implemented in a manner that is medically or psychologically contraindicated for a person;

- 8. be used as a substitute for adequate staffing, for the convenience of staff, as punishment, or as a consequence if the person refuses to participate in the treatment or services provided by this program;
- 9. use prone restraint. "Prone restraint" means use of manual restraint that places a person in a face-down position. It does not include brief physical holding of a person who, during an emergency use of manual restraint, rolls into a prone position, and the person is restored to a standing, sitting, or side-lying position as quickly as possible; or
- 10. apply back or chest pressure while a person is in a prone position, supine (meaning a face-up) position, or side-lying position,
- 11. be implemented in a manner that is contraindicated for any of the person's known medical or psychological limitations.

VIII. Monitoring Emergency Use of Manual Restraint

- A. The program must monitor a person's health and safety during an emergency use of a manual restraint. The purpose of the monitoring is to ensure the following:
 - 1. only manual restraints allowed in this policy are implemented;
 - 2. manual restraints that have been determined to be contraindicated for a person are not implemented with that person;
 - 3. allowed manual restraints are implemented only by staff trained in their use;
 - 4. the restraint is being implemented properly as required; and
 - 5. the mental, physical, and emotional condition of the person who is being manually restrained is being assessed and intervention is provided when necessary to maintain the person's health and safety and prevent injury to the person, staff involved, or others involved.
- B. When possible, a staff person who is not implementing the emergency use of a manual restraint must monitor the procedure.
- C. A monitoring form, as approved by the Department of Human Services, must be completed for each incident involving the emergency use of a manual restraint.

IX. Reporting Emergency Use of Manual Restraint

- A. Within 24 hours of an emergency use of manual restraint, the legal representative, the responsible party and the case manager must receive verbal notification of the occurrence as required under the incident response and reporting requirements in the 245D HCBS Standards, section 245D.06, subdivision 1.
 - When the emergency use of manual restraint involves more than one person receiving services, the incident report made to the legal representative, the responsible party and the case manager must not disclose personally identifiable information about any other person unless the program has the consent of the person.
- B. Within 3 calendar days after an emergency use of a manual restraint, the staff person who implemented the emergency use must report in writing to the program's designated coordinator, AccuKare Manager, the following information about the emergency use:
 - 1. who was involved in the incident leading up to the emergency use of a manual restraint; including the names of staff and persons receiving services who were involved;
 - 2. a description of the physical and social environment, including who was present before and during the incident leading up to the emergency use of a manual restraint;
 - 3. a description of what less restrictive alternative measures were attempted to de-escalate the incident and maintain safety before the emergency use of a manual restraint was implement. This description must identify when, how, and how long the alternative measures were attempted before the manual restraint was implemented;
 - 4. a description of the mental, physical, and emotional condition of the person who was manually restrained, leading up to, during, and following the manual restraint;

- 8. whether there was a debriefing with the staff and, if not contraindicated, with the person who was restrained and other persons who were involved in or who witnessed the restraint, following the incident. Include the outcome of the debriefing. If the debriefing was not conducted at the time the incident report was made, the report should identify whether a debriefing is planned.
- C. A copy of this report must be maintained in the person's service recipient record. The record must be uniform and legible.
- D. Each single incident of emergency use of manual restraint must be reported separately. A single incident is when the following conditions have been met:
 - 1. after implementing the manual restraint, staff attempt to release the person at the moment staff believe the person's conduct no longer poses an imminent risk of physical harm to self or others and less restrictive strategies can be implemented to maintain safety;
 - 2. upon the attempt to release the restraint, the person's behavior immediately re-escalates; and
 - 3 staff must immediately re-implement the manual restraint in order to maintain safety.

X. Internal Review of Emergency Use of Manual Restraint

- A. Within 5 business days after the date of the emergency use of a manual restraint, the program must complete and document an internal review of the report prepared by the staff member who implemented the emergency procedure.
- B. The internal review must include an evaluation of whether:
 - 1. the person's service and support strategies need to be revised;
 - 2. related policies and procedures were followed;
 - 3. the policies and procedures were adequate;

- Maltreatment includes egregious harm, neglect, physical abuse, sexual abuse, substantial child endangerment, threatened injury, and mental injury. For definitions refer to Minnesota Statutes, section 260E.03. Maltreatment must be reported if you have

For reports concerning suspected abuse or neglect occurring within a licensed facility, the report should include any actions taken by the facility in response to the incident.
- An oral report of suspected abuse or neglect made to one of the above agencies by a mandated reporter must be followed by a written report to the same agency within 72 hours, exclusive of weekends and holidays.

Failure to Report

A mandated reporter who knows or has reason to believe a child is or has been neglected or verbally or physically or sexually abused and fails to report is guilty of a misdemeanor.
